ELKS' DOINGS

SOCIAL FUNCTIONS IN PROSPECT —PARTICIPATION IN PATRIOTIC CELEBRATIONS

Two social functions are in sight for the Elks. The first of these which is an affair of the White Star Patrol and limited to that section of the organization, is a dance set for next Saturday night. It will be a hard times party with a midnight supper.

On June 6th will be given the supper and dance for members and their ladies only, which has been talked about for some time. This will be quite a function.

No initiations took place at the meeting Monday night, but several matters were discussed. For one thing, Past Exalted Ruler Bert Woodard was named as the official delegate to attend the annual Grand Lodge convention to be held at Atlantic City July 7th to 12th.

Arrangements were also made to observe Flag Day, June 14th, and E. B. Drake, Past Exalted Ruler of Los Angeles Lodge No. 99, has been engaged as orator on that occasion.

The local lodge will participate in Memorial Day exercises to the extent of decorating the graves of deceased members in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, as usual.

The dining service opened in the Elks' Club is proving a great success. When it was found that the dinners were meeting a need and assured of patronage, a luncheon service was inaugurated which is quite as popular and drawing an ever-increasing attendance. This service is limited, of course, to Elks and their friends.

The clerk of the Lodge reports many new applications for membership and that nine are now awaiting their initiation, which will take place next Monday night when two in addition will be received by demit. It will probably be a big night with some special entertainment features.

FAMILY GATHERING

The home of the Kenagas at 547 Oak Street, recent arrivals in our vicinity, was a scene of a pleasant gathering of relatives Saturday, May 17, 1919.

Decorations were of white and pink roses. Covers were laid for ten. Those present were Mrs. Lue A. Carruthers, Mrs. McGill, Mrs. Fannie Carruthers, Miss Ruth Carruthers, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Greene, all of Long Beach, Calif., and Miss Katherine Kenaga of Pasadena, Calif. The day terminated with an auto trip in and around Glendale and the guests expressed themselves as well pleased with our growing city.

MEMORIAL DAY

PATRIOTIC ORGANIZATIONS MAKE PLANS TO HONOR MEMORY OF THE DEPARTED

Arrangements for a Memorial Day celebration that will be in keeping with the spirit of the day were made at a joint meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Spanish War Veterans, the League of American Defenders and the Sons of Veterans, held at the Intermediate School last evening. The meeting was in charge of Comrade C. R. Norton of the G. A. R. with Richardson D. White as secretary.

By common consent it was decided to hold the afternoon services at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, and in this connection the meeting was addressed by Mr. Bassford, their representative.

Mr. Bassford gave a brief outline of the arrangements being made by his association to provide exercises of a highly patriotic nature on that day. Those who were fortunate enough to have been present at the exercises last year still carry a vivid recollection of that most impressive occasion.

Plans for a grand parade were outlined and a committee consisting of Officer of the Day R. N. Taylor and Adjutant Dru Nicoles was appointed to make the necessary arrangements.

It is the intention of the patriotic bodies represented to invite all schools, associations, organizations and societies to participate in this feature and to enlist their aid in bringing to the minds of the general public a fuller realization of the real significance of Memorial Day and its sacred memories.

The program as outlined for the exercises at Forest Lawn gives promise of unusual merit and interest, but being subject to revision, will not be announced until a later date.

The N. P. Banks Post, G. A. R., will hold their customary morning services at Grand View Cemetery, Burbank.

MEET FOR BUSINESS

ENJOY FELLOWSHIP AND FEAST AND TRANSACT NEEDED BUSINESS

At the pleasant home of A. L. Lawshe, 620 North Maryland, last evening, the Men's Class of Central Christian Church met for fellowship and business. It was the first regular meeting of the year and the men nearly all took advantage of it. The Lawshe home is a regular mine of curios, wonderful and interesting mementoes, picturesque scenes and public records gathered in the twenty years of official service of Mr. Lawshe, who was an intimate friend of Taft, Roosevelt, Root, McKinley and others of the most prominent men of the nation. He made a trip around the world, gathering views, taken at first hand by a friend's camera, curios and oddities from European cities, the Holy Land, Egypt, India, China, Japan and other places. He has also many autographed copies of books by noted writers. The men greatly enjoyed an hour or two spent in looking over these things and then at 9:30 they were ushered to the lawn in rear of the house, where long tables arranged in T shape were laden with sandwiches, cake and olives, with beautiful bouquets in vases and occupying the post of honor a huge punch-bowl filled with variegated flowers. Just as the feast was concluding the rain drops began to fall and a hasty adjournment was taken to the house, where the business meeting was held, John H. Orth, president of the class, presiding. Geo. Staub was elected secretary-treasurer in place of J. G. Umbaugh, who recently moved to Los Angeles. A membership committee to secure additions to the class and call on absentees, was appointed, namely, H. R. Stevenson, W. F. Hedges, Fred B. Mattice, Lee Kaster and Geo. P. Bohannon. Then it was suggested that the class should have a regular committee to send letters of commendation with members moving away, to pastors of churches in the new locations. A. L. Lawshe, Fred L. Thompson and John Ray were appointed as this committee.

Then some of the members spoke briefly, voicing the universal regret at having to lose W. J. Stone from the class and the chaurch, and recounting his many good works as elder, chairman of official board, financial secretary and teacher in the Sun-

A VALUABLE SURPRISE

Fred L. Thompson, who is chairman of the building fund committee of the Central Christian Church, had a most agreeable surprise on his recent return home from a three-weeks' business trip. The first man he met on getting off the Glendale car was a fellow member who handed him an envelope containing five Victory Bonds of $100 each in payment of his subscription to the fund. Fred says he is prepared for any more shocks like this that may be coming to him.

THEY DRANK FROM THE SAME CANTEEN

Major J. J. Weiler, of 205 West Acacia Avenue, is enjoying a visit from an old comrade in arms, Henry Banta, of Fresno, whom he met at the Encampment in Santa Ana and brought home with him. When mere boys they enlisted in the 17th Indiana, afterward a part of Wilder's Lightning Brigade of Mounted Infantry. Mr. Banta served all through the Civil War as a private, but Mr. Weiler rose to the position of Major of the regiment. Now they are simply comrades, as when they entered the service.

AMBITIOUS CHURCH

FIRST M. E. WORKERS TO CONTINUE CENTENARY DRIVE TO RAISE CHURCH DEBT

Monday night captains and workers in the Centenary drive for the First Methodist Church of Glendale, to the number of forty, met in the banquet room of the church and enjoyed a supper served by the division of the Ladies' Aid which is headed by Mesdames Starkey and Shattuck.

Reports there submitted showed that subscriptions totaling $16,613 had been secured on the $24,000 quota, which was very cheering; but some of the reports were of special interest and led to action which shows that there is no limit to the ambition of Methodists when once they are aroused. One canvasser stated that a subscription had been given him for $1000 with the statement that the subscriber would give a like amount if the church would

PRESIDENT WILSON'S MESSAGE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, May 20.—President Wilson today called upon a Republican Congress to legislate along lines for better labor conditions.

The outstanding feature of his message, read to both houses of Congress, was his appeal that those who do the daily labor of the world "obtain progressive improvement in the condition of their labor, be made happier and be served better by the communities and the industries which their labor sustains and advances."

The new interest between capital and labor, he said, can be made operative and manifest only in a new organization of industry, and he urges business men and workers to "seek and sincerely adopt a common purpose" toward that end.

Regretting his inability to be present and his lack of familiarity with domestic conditions owing to the "duty" which keeps him at the peace conference, the President, in making his recommendations, declared they must of necessity be "only in general terms."

However, he specifically told Congress that he will return the telegraph and telephone lines as soon as the "re-transfer can be effected without administration confusion," and the railroads, he said, will be handed over to the owners at the end of the calendar year.

"It is clearly desirable in the public interests," he said, "that some legislation should be considered which may tend to make of these indispensable instrumentalities (wire lines and railroads) a uniform and coordinated system," that those who use them may be insured certain means of country-wide communication at uniform and intelligible rates.

These recommendations, however, have been looked for. The promised surprise of the President's message lay in his recommendation to Congress to repeal or amend the war-time prohibition act, insofar as it applies to wine or beer.

By this action, the President passes over to the Republicans the burden of upholding or rejecting the war prohibition question, settled in favor of the "drys" by a Democratic Congress.

Demobilization of the army, the President says, has reached a point where the ban on intoxicants can be removed, insofar, at least, as it pertains to wines and beers.

The President advises against any "general" revision of import duties, but counsels protection for the new American dye industry.

He urges revision of taxes so that the income tax, excess profits tax and the estate tax can be made to "yield constant and adequate returns, and yet not constitute a too grievous burden upon the taxpayer."

He urges repeal of many "minor taxes," including "the excises upon various manufacturers and the taxes upon retail sales."

Tax revision should be made only after a most careful study of the whole problem, he says.

The President would maintain the United States employment service, co-ordinate the various agencies for conciliation and adjustment, create a new agency to act as a clearing house for ideas to improve industrial conditions and reclaim western lands in order to help out the general program of making things better for those working and wanting work.

The President did not touch upon his work in Paris, except to say that it would be premature to discuss it until he could presently lay the whole matter before Congress in complete form. His sole reference to the League of Nations in the message was to say that under its agencies of international counsel and suggestion an industrial problem had been created and it would be advisable to have a national body to so such work for American workers and industry alone.

CONGRESS HEARS PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

SENATOR KENYON ANNOUNCES LABOR PROGRAM LEGISLATION—WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE BILL UP IN HOUSE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, May 20.—Immediately following the reading of the President's message in the Senate, the Progressives, through Senator Kenyon, announced their program for labor legislation, who said they will introduce bills covering it immediately. He emphasized that their principles are the same as President Wilson's, viz: the partnership of capital and labor.

In the House, soon after the message was read, the first resolution favorably reported was a resolution presented yesterday by Republican Leader Mann, providing for woman's suffrage.

The House committees already have under consideration bills for the repeal of luxury taxes, eight appropriation bills, and a measure for the return of telegraph and telephone lines to private control.

Senators Johnson of California and Poindexter of Washington are planning to renew their discussion of the peace treaty and of the Russian situation.

N-C 4 MAKES OBJECTIVE

DAMAGE TO N-C 3 CAN BE REPAIRED—COMMANDER TOWERS IS CONSIDERABLY BUFFETED BY SEA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, May 20.—The N-C 4 reached Ponta Delgada this morning at 10:24, Washington time, in good condition. The N-C 4 covered the 150 miles between Horta and Delgada in an hour and thirty-four minutes, and made an average flight of 95 miles an hour.

Ponta Delgada advices received here today said that an examination of the N-C 3, the squadron's flagship, showed it was damaged, but that the damage could be repaired. Commander Towers said he descended Saturday 75 miles off Pico, because he distrusted his instruments. He underwent many hardships, including five hours in a drenching rainstorm and heavy buffeting from seas, which prevented the plane from rising again.

Horta, Azores, May 20.—The American seaplane N-C 4 left Horta at 8:40, New York time, for Ponta Delgada, where she will await favorable weather to continue her trip to Lisbon.

HARRY HAWKER STILL MISSING

POSSIBILITY HE MAY HAVE BEEN PICKED UP BY SMALL VESSEL WITHOUT WIRELESS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

London, May 20.—At 2:40 o'clock this afternoon neither the Admiralty nor the Air Ministry had received any word in regard to Harry Hawker, the British trans-Atlantic aviator. All available ships have been ordered to search for him. It is pointed out that a small vessel not equipped with wireless might have picked him up, but in many quarters hope has given way to grave fears.

TRUSTEES ACT

MEET MONDAY AND APPOINT ENGINEER ERNEST IRWIN TO MAKE TELEPHONE ESTIMATES

In deference to the request of the Greater Glendale Development Association and in conformity with a resolution passed at the last regular meeting the Board of City Trustees at an adjourned meeting held Monday evening voted unanimously to employ Engineer Ernest Irwin to work with the engineer of the Public Service Department for the purpose of making a preliminary report on the cost of construction and operation of a municipal telephone system for the City of Glendale, to be paid for his services at the rate of $15 per day, the total amount to be thus expended not to exceed $90 without the further order of the Board.

Mr. Irwin is peculiarly well adapted to the task assigned him as he has been engaged with the independent telephone companies of Southern California for a good many years and has not been at any time identified with the Pacific or Bell lines. He is thoroughly familiar with the inside end and has been doing appraisement, inventory and valuation work which especially fits him to make estimates of cost of equipment and of operation. This special experience which he has had and his freedom from embarrassing affiliations were reasons why he was selected for the special service he is to render Glendale, which will begin at once. He is a man of about forty years who ranks high in his line of work.

THE GREENWALTS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Greenwalt and son, Ronald, have returned to Glendale and say they have come to stay permanently. The North is all right in a business way, they say, offering more opportunities to make money than the South, but Southern California, particularly Glendale, is home and they have not been contented away from it. Their son will transfer his units to the University of Southern California or Occidental, and continue his college work.

ENSIGN HEASLEY HOME AT LAST

Ensign Max Heasley, of 337 Vine Street, who recently returned from a trip to Germany on a food ship, landing at New Orleans, arrived at home last Thursday. He went down to San Pedro today to receive his conditional release, making him subject to call for duty anytime within four years. He had a wonderful voyage to the heart of Germany, as was told in his letter home, recently published in the Evening News. He was importuned to go on another voyage to Germany, but had so many home duties and a number of good jobs to choose from, hence that he decided to remain ashore.

TORCHLIGHT FISHING

Midnight smelt fishing at Santa Monica by torchlight is becoming very popular with Glendalians. Several parties went down and tried their luck during the week-end. One included Judge Miller, Harry Moore and wife, Miss Shula Crawford, Morris Andrews and "Duke" Claussenius. Miss Crawford is said to have caught most of the fish, forty being credited to her score, but some one else had to remove them from the hook for her. Henry M. Butts and his two sons went down a night later and report great sport.

CORPORAL BURSON

REACHES GLENDALE SUNDAY AND IS GLAD TO FORGET WAR AND BE A CITIZEN

Corporal Harold H. Burson has returned. He arrived Sunday morning at eight o'clock, in splendid health and vigor. He was a member of Company C, 316th Ammunition Train, 91st Division, and is very glad to be back in the U. S. A., especially in Glendale. He saw action in the Argonne Forest and in the Lys-Scheldt region and while he greatly prizes his experience, he would not care to have it over again. After such participation in destructive effort he will be very glad to be a plain citizen again and engage in constructive work. He had some very narrow escapes, but like the rest of the soldiers is very modest about talking of his engagements and seems anxious to forget them. He is twenty months older than when he went away but his friends say he looks years older; that the crucible he has been through has matured and made a man of him, although he came through it without a scratch.

ANOTHER HAPPY LAD

Mrs. Frank Proctor, of 1135 East Wilson Avenue, is in receipt of a letter from her son, Ralph, telling of his hopes of early sailing for home. It reads as follows:

"Poincon, France, April 19.

"Dear Folks:—I guess I will pen you a few lines tonight. Tomorrow is Easter and I celebrate by driving the 'Water Wagon.'

"I am expecting to stick my feet under the old table some time around June. We leave this place very soon, in a few days I believe, and as the rest of the regiment is also leaving its place and proceeding to Le Mans, I have hopes. We should be on the bounding waves in less than a month unless someone has picked out a nice road for us to fix at Le Mans or some nearby town. I suspect the latter until I find out differently. I was pretty badly disappointed once on this home-going proposition and now I would rather be agreeably surprised than disappointed again. Le Mans, you know, is the place where the Divisions all rest before going on the boat. The stay there has been very short. Our Regimental Headquarters is there now.

"The sun has shone for two whole days now. Quite a change from the weather we have had.

"Well, I guess that is about all. I sure hope we are on our way home this time as I have had about enough of this country. If they put us to busting rock in the Le Mans area we will be a sorry looking bunch, I am afraid.

"You asked if I know Clifford Y. Polk. I say I do, quite well. He has been in all the places I have. There are only 250 of us, anyhow, in this company, you know, so I know everyone.

"Your son,

GREATER GLENDALE DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION

The regular weekly meeting of the Greater Glendale Development Association will be held this (Tuesday) evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Intermediate School at the corner of Kenwood Street and Wilson Avenue. Progress on the anti-telephone toll war will be announced by the committee. Every citizen of Glendale is invited.

NORMAN C. WELLS, Pres.
C. D. LUSBY, Secretary.

TO ENTERTAIN SOLDIERS

The "Come-Backs" of this district, meaning the returned soldiers, are to be entertained with a dance by ladies of the Eagle Rock Woman's Club at their clubhouse Saturday evening, May 24th, and the clerk of the Glendale Elks, Mr. Heald, invites Glendale service men by authority of the Eagle Rock Club.

MRS. KELLER TO WED

ANNOUNCES ENGAGEMENT TO LIEUT. PAUL A. BRATTAIN WITH ENGINEERS IN FRANCE

Announcement has been made by Mrs. Pearl Keller of her engagement to Lieut. Paul A. Brattain, who is now with the Army of Occupation in Luxemburg, but who expects to be sent home in August or September. As soon as he returns the marriage will take place and Lieut. Brattain will resume his professional work in civil engineering. Mrs. Keller will not give up her school, but will continue it until the Lieutenant is definitely established. He enlisted with the 18th Engineers when the United States first entered the war and has been in the fighting zone for two years. He went in as a private but has had four promotions and is now, as stated, a lieutenant, but is with the 7th Engineers, 5th Division.

He and Mrs. Keller have known each other since their childhood together in Spokane and the engagement is a renewal of an old affair.

LIEUT. STAUFFACHER HOME

Lieutenant John Stauffacher has been released from the aviation service in which he has been a "Pursuit Pilot"—although he is still in the reserve—and is now at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Stauffacher, at 721 Orange Grove Avenue. For the present he has had enough of army life, but he may change his mind later if Congress makes a big appropriation for the development of that part of the army service and he sees an attractive opportunity. If not, his old job with the Edison Company is awaiting him. His work has all been in California at Berkeley, Rockwell and March fields.

SHEEP AND PEOPLE

The similarity of sheep to people and vice versa has always been noted. People have been called "lambs to the slaughter," lambs in Wall Street, sheepish, "like sheep, all following their leader and not thinking for themselves," "sheep-headed," "All we, like sheep, have gone astray," etc.

Another analogy in which I apologize to the sheep as much as to the human is the resemblance between people and sheep in the matter of the wealth they produce.

Sheep leave a lot of their wool in tags on briers in the pasture, or on the bottom barbed wire of the pasture fence as they houdini out of bounds. When shearing time comes they have great gaps in their fleeces, and in a large herd many pounds less clip is obtained because of this total loss. I saw hundeds of pounds of wool thus wasted in Idaho recently.

The sheep foolishly pay no attention to this loss, but whenever they get caught on something shut their eyes and lean forward till a tuft fetches loose.

People are like that. A lot of little wastes occur in their daily expenditures, wastes that the exercise of a little intelligence would prevent. They do not plan intelligently and now and then they find they have awkwardly impaled themselves on something. They shut their eyes, sheep-like, and lean forward—something gives. Another bunch of wool is gone.

Life insurance cuts down the briers in the field, lowers the bottom barbed wire so no sheep can crawl under, and makes the sheep himself more careful what becomes of the wealth he produces. The human sheep's annual financial clip is thus larger and he feels very much prouder of himself and of what he is doing for the world.—Life Association News.

CANADA PLANTS VICTORY GARDENS

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, May 20. — Canada's Victory gardens have joined hands with the Victory gardens of the United States for increased food production, as the result of an international food conference in Ottawa, attended by officials of the Canadian Trade Commission and the National War Garden Commission of Washington. The Dominion government is fully awake to the food needs of America and Europe and the fight against General Hunger will be continued in the home trenches of Canada.

As an outgrowth of the international conference, the Canadian Trade Commission has undertaken to conduct the victory garden campaign throughout Canada for the Dominion Government. The Trade Commission is newly organized and succeeds to some of the functions and activities of the Canada Food Board and the War Trade Board, which were war time organizations of the Government. The work in Canada will be done in co-operation with the National War Garden Commission and will be co-ordinated with the work of the latter commission in the United States.

Reports from Canada to the National War Garden Commission show that the victory gardens are on the job. The Montreal Cultivation Commission, under the joint presidency of W. H. Dandurand and J. S. Brierly, has prepared for from 10,000 to 20,000 gardens in Montreal. Ottawa is also thoroughly organized.

From the isolated Hudson Bay District comes word that gardeners are active, in spite of the wildness of the region. This report comes from Sergeant E. H. L. Thompson of the Canadian Mounted Police, who is just back from a seven weeks' patrol north of the Pas. The country is so rough that overland travel was almost impossible for Thompson.

"There are gardens all along the route in which potatoes and other vegetables are grown. There are no settlers and the gardens are for the most part grown by the employes of the Hudson Bay Railway," said Thompson.

pay its debt. Two other subscriptions for $500 each were reported on which a like promise had been made. These statements announcing voluntary subscriptions toward the church debt which amounts to $28,000, fired the enthusiasm of workers and after some discussion a motion was unanimously carried to continue the drive after the quota is raised, the subscriptions to be applied on the church debt and to cover the same period of time, viz., five years, collections to be made weekly except in cases where the subscription is given ina lump sum at the outset.

Dr. Davis, the District Superintendent who was present, heartily indorsed the plan although it has been the policy of the church as a whole not to mix any other interest with the Centenary Drive. In this instance, however, it is felt that the building by this church of an edifice for the future is in line with the Centenary idea and therefore it is not a violation of the spirit of the drive to consider the raising of the church debt in that connection.

The workers will meet again this evening for a supper which will be served by the division of the Ladies' Aid, which is headed by Mesdames Lusby and Nicholas. Wednesday evening the division headed by Mrs. Ed Lee and Mrs. C. E. Russell will have charge; for a supper will be served each evening during the drive at which captains and workers can come together to report and confer. The pastor, Rev. Charles H. Scott, hopes that at next Sunday's services announcement can be made not only that the church has subscribed its quota, but that it has also subscribed its church debt.

Personals

Glen Eyrie Chapter of the Eastern Star is having a card party Thursday evening at Masonic Temple.

G. A. Mangun, of 416 Patterson Avenue, who has been in Arizona on business, is expected home in a few days.

The regular monthly social of the Central Methodist Church will be held tonight, Tuesday, in the social hall of the church.

The White Star Patrol of the Elks' Lodge has a dance booked for next Saturday night for members and their best girls only.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Lakin, of Alhambra, were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Puffer, of 452 Vine Street.

William Farlander, of Riverdale Drive, who is a traveling man, got home last Thursday and expects to spend most of the summer here.

Confirmation services at St. Mark's at which quite a large class will be confirmed, will take place the evening of May 27th with special music and other exercises.

Miss Winea Simpson, of 203 East Laurel Street, was graduated Monday evening from the San Fernando Academy, both in music and academic courses. She expects to continue her studies at the Pacific Union College.

Members of the XIV, a social and philanthropic club, were entertained Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Story, of Burbank. This club was organized about seven years ago and is made up largely of ladies who are or who have been teachers, but its aim is social.

Dr. Henry R. Harrower is motoring to San Diego today to give a talk this evening before the Medical Officers' Club at Camp Kearny. On the following evening he will address the San Diego County Medical Society in San Diego. He expects to get home Friday.

One Los Angeles man was made happy Sunday through the instrumentality of the Glendale police. His car had been stolen. A traveling man who visited Glendale had discovered the car on the road to Silver Lake in Griffith Park and reported it here. Chief Lampert was able to get in touch with the owner.

Mrs. A. T. Davis, of 627 Orange Grove Avenue, is in receipt of a letter reporting the good health of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Knight, who lives in Chicago; also telling of entertaining Charles Shropshire for dinner the Sunday before. He is an old schoolmate and friend of Mr. Knight and they have always kept up the intimacy. He is doing well in a business way there; is the son of Mrs. Mary E. Shropshire of 145 South Everett Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Ayars, of 214 Chestnut Street, have returned from a delightful but very quiet outing at Balboa Beach where they spent a week boating, fishing and bathing in the surf. Mrs. Ayars says they caught enough fish to be able to say that they had fish to eat of their own catching, but it was an off week when nobody had much luck, the schools which had been running the week before being somewhere else. They had a good time, nevertheless, and returned much refreshed by the change.

Mrs. K. La Com, of 347 Oak Street, entertained with a mid-day family dinner on Sunday in honor of her son, E. F. La Com, his wife and two daughters, Lois and Katherine, of Salt Lake City, also Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand La Com, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Flutot and two sons, Edward and Robert, Miss Margaret La Com, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Levy and two daughters, Dorothy and Lucy, and Raymond Robinson. Following the dinner the party took in the aeroplane display at Hollywood, which they found wonderfully fine.

Mr. Downing, of the Western Union Telegraph office, is enjoying a vacation of a few weeks and is said to have gone fishing. His place is being taken by Henry C. Nichols of Los Angeles, supervisor of branches, who declares there is no doubt that the "wires" both telegraphic and telephonic will go back to their private owners as soon as Congress can act on the matter. While, in his opinion, they have been handled by the Postoffice Department as well as could be expected from inexperienced men, the public is demanding private ownership and competition and government, he says, has enough on its hands without thwarting and irritating the people by retaining them in the face of opposition.

MASONIC NOTICE

Mrs. Halliwell owns a 16-acre ranch on West Broadway and San Fernando Road and the family lived there until about a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Robinson, of 139 North Glendale Avenue, are rejoicing over a telegram received from their son, F. H., Jr., announcing his safe arrival in New York Saturday from overseas. They are anxiously awaiting further news of his movements and hoping for his early discharge and return home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Bott, of 603 West Broadway, state that it is about ten days since they received a letter from Asa Bott of Company C., 23d Engineers, who was in an embarkation hospital at Brest when he wrote, recuperating from a "typhoid shot." They expect that he is now on the way home and are hoping to see him before many weeks roll around.

A GARDEN OUTING

Mrs. Harriet Frank and her daughter, Miss Alice Frank, of East Wilson Avenue, entertained a party of about twenty-seven Sunday afternoon in connection with a garden outing they were giving some of the children of the Chinese Presbyterian Mission in Temple Block, Los Angeles, who sang a few songs for the pleasure of other guests present, the list including Mr. Lewis, of the Imperial Valley, now on his way to England, who is a special friend of Harrison W. Frank. Mr. Lewis was a house guest for the week-end as was also Miss Maud Howell, of Los Angeles. Others of the party were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Woodard, Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Thom and children, Miss Whytock and her sister, Mrs. Kingsley, whose husband is in educational work abroad, Mr. Parks of Venice, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman. 1919 WHEAT CROP

How the government intends to handle the guarantee of the 1919 wheat crop was stated in general outline today by W. A. Starr of the San Francisco agency of the Grain Corporation. The main features of the plan, as stated by Starr, were worked out at conferences in New York, to which regional officials of the Grain Corporation were summoned by Julius H. Barnes, federal wheat director.

The details will not be announced until next month, after further conferences, but the outline given today covers the essential points in a broad way, disclosing valuable information for farmer, dealer and consumer, concerning methods and policies that will prevail. These points are emphasized:

It is intended that the regular machinery of the grain trade, rather than the Grain Corporation, shall buy the crop from the farmer and accomplish distribution to the mills, as far as possible.

The government minimum price of wheat at all terminal markets in this zone will be the same as for the 1918 crop—2.20 per bushel in bulk, at both San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The allowance for sacks will be a proper reflection of the cost of bags to the farmer, and therefore will probably be fixed at about one-half of last year.

Whenever the regular channels of the grain trade and mills do not absorb the wheat offered by the farmer, the Grain Corporation will accept delivery of wheat at the terminals only, and pay the government minimum price.

The government will not be concerned in the operations of dealers or others above the minimum price. There is nothing to prevent the farmers selling or the dealers trading at prices above the government minimum, if the law of supply and demand makes that possible.

(It is pointed out, however, that the wheat crop promises to be so large that prices are expected to drop to the government minimum as soon as the movement of new wheat begins.)

The price of wheat may be slightly increased, from time to time, to take care of carrying charges and to encourage both farmers and dealers to hold back a part of their crop in the country warehouses until the wheat is needed by the mills. Otherwise, terminals might become congested.

Domestic flour prices and export prices of wheat and flour for shipment out of the United States will be kept on the same level. If it is found necessary, because of world market conditions, to reduce the export price, adjustments will be made through the mills to assure the consumer in this country the benefit of the lower resale price on flour.

In return for protection by the government against loss because of the shift in price, the mills will be required to give guarantees that the domestic consumer will be given the advantage of a proportionately reduced price.

In order that the farmer may receive a return for his crop fairly based on the wheat price at the terminals, he will be protected against unfair handling charges. The farmer should receive in all cases at point of shipment the terminal market price less the freight and a reasonable handling charge. A maximum handling charge may be named later.

Other provisions are being worked out, including those affecting the mills and bakers, which will assure full protection to all concerned, from the farmer to the consumer.

PETAIN TO VISIT U. S.

FRENCH LEADER VERY SIMPLE IN HIS TASTES—TALKS OF AMERICA'S WAR EFFORTS

By Wm. Philip Simms
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS. (By Mail).—Marshal Petain expects to pay a visit to America as soon as circumstances permit.

There are few leaders of men more likable than Petain. His tastes are simplicity itself. He lives simply and dresses simply. When I saw him at his headquarters he was wearing a horizon-blue uniform, without an inch of braid of any description. Only his seven stars, on each sleeve, to show his rank, gave his dress even the slightest glint. But even these stars were small and of dulled silver. He wore no service stripes though entitled to the maximum, which is six. On his breast only one bit of ribbon was pinned—without the decoration itself—and this was the "Medaille Militaire." Ordinarily officers are not entitled to this; only privates and non-commissioned officers are regularly eligible. But officers who have performed extraordinary services for their country are awarded the medal and, though owning about all the decorations there are, Marshal Petain wears but one and that the simplest of the lot.

The Marshal's cuff buttons were of white metal. They could not have cost more than a few cents each. His leggings were of the knitted variety.

In short Marshal Petain is a plain but neat soldier utterly without gewgaws and dazzle. He carries his brilliancy in his head.

Petain received the American correspondents at Chantilly to talk about his trip to the American Army Bases of Supply.

His comparisons were interesting. In the days of Napoleon, he pointed out, when armies numbered about 200,000 and were generally on the move, they lived on the country, needed little transport and few bases. Nowadays armies number millions of men and their movements are comparatively limited. So, after a very few days, were they dependent upon the localities wherein they are operating, they would be foodless and supplyless.

Thus stupendous bases of semi-permanent character are necessary to keep a modern army fed and equipped and between these bases and the front a vast system of transport must be kept circulating.

The backbone of the American "S O S" or "Service of Supplies" the Marshal pointed out, was the ship. Every ton of food and equipment had to be brought across the Atlantic. The three naval bases converged on one central base, at Tours, the pretty French inland city to the southwest of Paris. Reserve depots were located also at other points—but likewise operating through Tours. Thousands of miles of specially laid railways were built connecting the seacoast bases with Tours and Tours with reserve depots and Tours with advanced bases.

"Americans did work in five or six months," declared Petain, "which, had it been undertaken by the French before the war, would have required five or six years to complete."

The whole work was "a veritable marvel" the Marshal said, and "in every way worthy of all the best traditions of the country which performed them."

BUILD YOUR OWN HOME

Set your money to work on building a home of your own. This is the period of readjustment, and idle dollars are as detrimental to the national welfare as idle men.

Building is a basic industry. To build a home, aside from the obvious benefits to the home owner, is to make an important and direct contribution to national readjustment and reconstruction.

First, the country needs thousands of homes. After that the home builder creates a demand for stone, bricks, lumber, hardware, concrete, paint, etc., etc.; money circulates—only blood that circulates makes for health. Building absorbs labor. That is of prime importance right now when thousands of soldiers are being released from the Army and industry is in transition from the war to peace gear.

Your money, invested in building a home, works for your permanent prosperity and welfare and at the same time renders a not less tangible service to your country. Put your money to work—BUILD NOW. —U. S. Department of Labor.

NAVY CAPTURES SAN FRANCISCO

(By United Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—The navy took 'em over today—the entire town.

Ten thousand "gobs" and marines headed by Rear Admiral J. L. Jayne and Mayor James Rolph paraded today in the largest naval spectacle ever held in San Francisco. Market Street was lined with thousands to witness the monster demonstration. The parade was interspersed with floats depicting navy and marine life.

The parade passed to the Civic Center where a basket picnic under the direction of the Red Cross was held for the men. About fifty thousand in addition to the bluejackets and marines crowded the center. An open air circus and dancing took up the greater part of the afternoon. Three dances and a vaudeville show will be held this evening.

LONDON. — Declaring that she wished to be able to wear openwork stockings, an injured munition girl being fitted with an artificial leg, asked for a pink enamel one.
